B.Laban sales in the first third of 2024

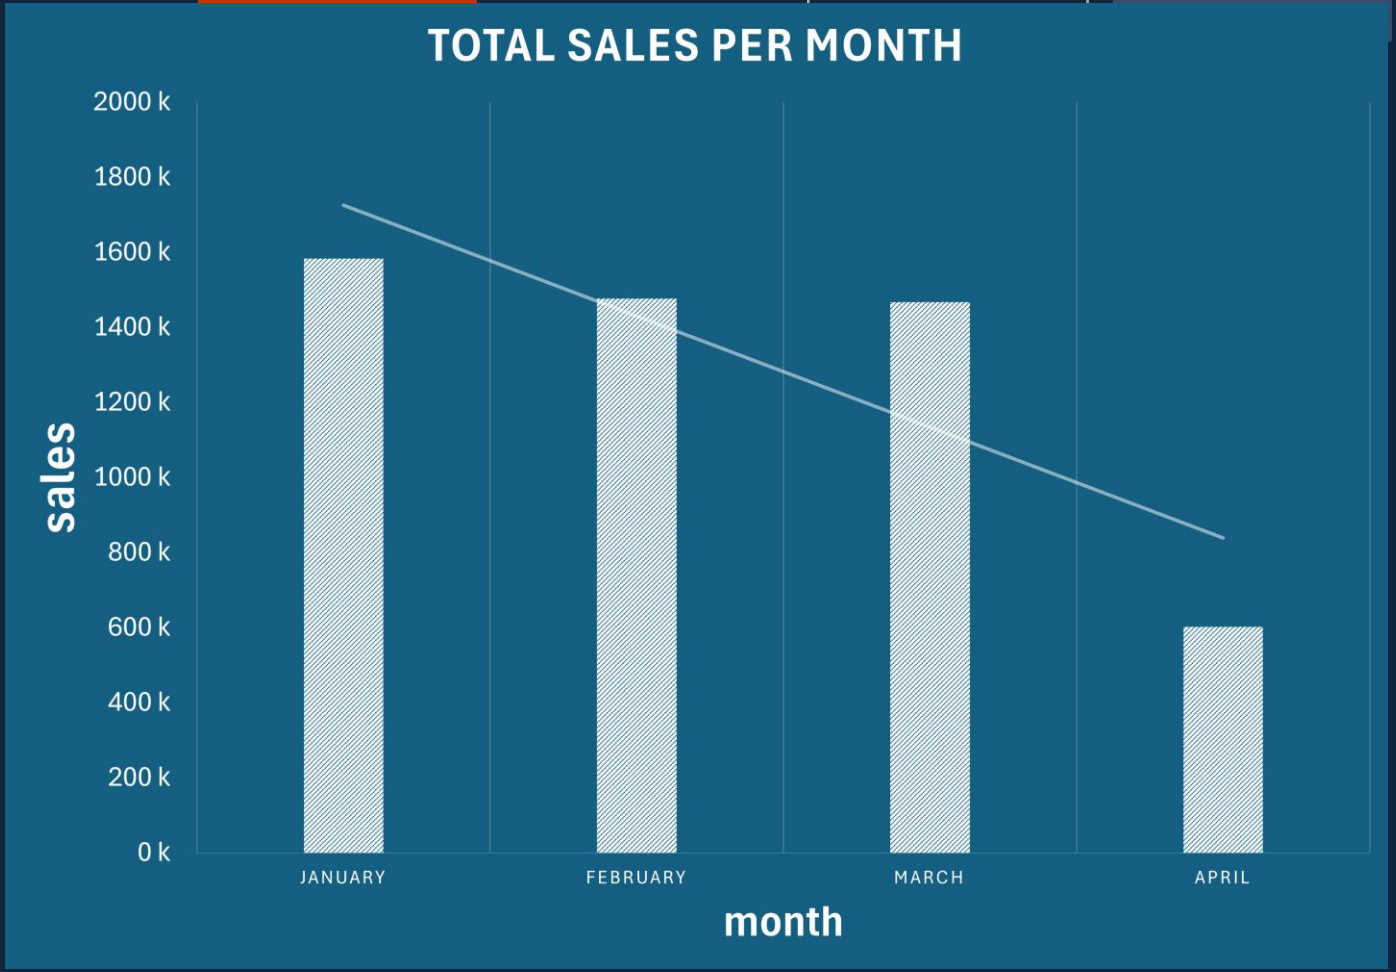
- Presenter Name

Content

- Track monthly sales performance across January-April 2024
- Investigate the sharp sales decline in April across all branches
- Analyze customer demographics (age and gender) to identify priority segments

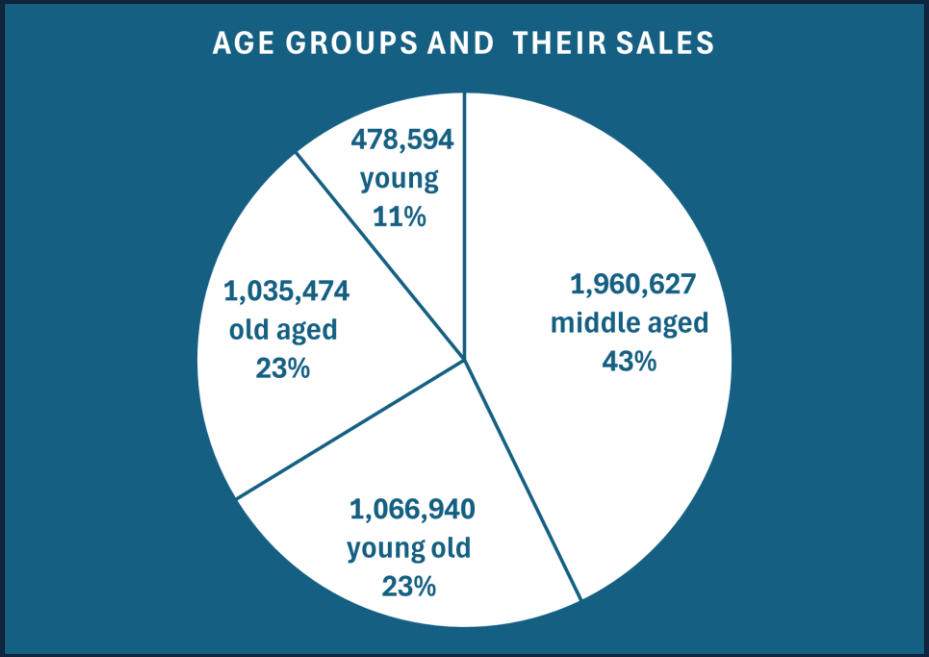
Sales per month

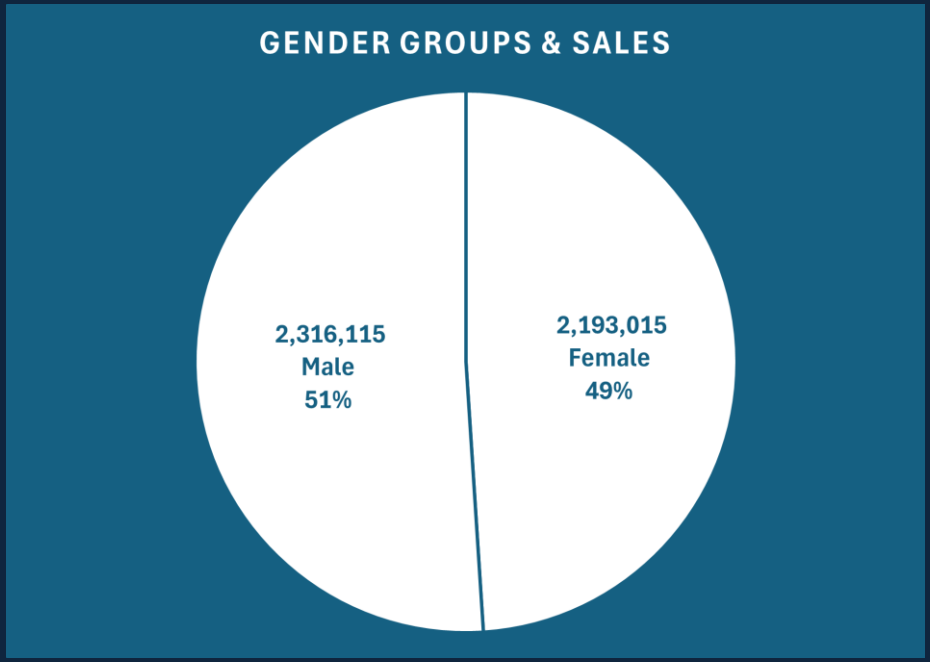
As the graph shows, there is a sharp decline in sales in April.
This is not due to reputation or quality of food. From Jan to Mar, the company was int its 'trend phase', and April is the end of that trend.



Future initiatives

- The customer base is nearly evenly split between genders (3,134 Male / 3,008 Female customers)
- Middle-aged customers (≤45) represent the largest and most valuable segment with 2,646 customers generating 1.96M in sales





What to do next?

- Make sure to be aligned with all the health standards.
- Marketing efforts should focus on the middle-aged demographic
- Maintain an image in media and adds to not be forgotten.
- maintain the existing gender balance
